In the world's broad field of battle,
In the conflict of real life,
Advertising is the secret
Of achievement in the strife,
Lives of rich men all remind us
We can make our own sublime;
And by liberal advertising
To the highest summit climb.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Advertising does not pay;
For the man's non compus mentis
Who would such absurd things say.
Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the man who hopes to rise
To success in any calling,
Must expect to advertise.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

J. J. VANN, Esq., of Union county, will cross swords with Judge SHIPP for the nomination from the 11th Judicial district this year.

THE Biblical Recorder is out in a new dress from "head to foot." In point of ability it ranks among the first papers in the land, and, in our judgment, has no superior in North Carolina.

THE celebration of the Battle of Guilford Court-House will take place on Tuesday, May 6th, at the Battle-Ground five miles west of Greensboro—extra trains running from that city to accommodate the crowd, which is to enjoy a good old-fashioned reunion and open-air picnic.

COL. JOHN D. CAMERON, one of the most charming and polished writers in North Carolina journalism, has severed his connection permanently with the Asheville Citizen. His shoes will be hard to fill, while to lose him from the editorial fraternity would be a loss not only to Asheville but to the entire State, too sad to contemplate.

THE announcement that Maj. JOHN C. WINDER, of Raleigh, will become General Manager of the entire Seaboard system of roads on or about May 1st will be received throughout the country by his friends and admirers with peculiar delight. Major WINDER is a railroad man of long experience, and his promotion is a well-merited compliment to a most worthy gentleman.

HON. ALFRED ROWLAND, of Robeson, who has served the people of the "Shoe String" district for the past four years with fidelity and zeal and distinguished ability, will be a candidate as his own successor again this year. Faithful and ever watchful over the best interests of his constituents, Col. ROWLAND has so deeply enshrined himself in the hearts of his people that he will be hard to root out.

"It is now said that the 'Great White Czar of all the Russias' is subject to nervous attacks which increase in violence with each recurrence." Well, we should say! What with dynamite bombs, railroad wreckers, steel traps set about the palace in convenient little nooks and corners, 'spiders in his dumpling,' and other such little attentions and pleasantries on the part of 'his friends the enemy,' the Nihilists, it is a wonder the poor man has any nerves left to be attacked!

MRS. SARAH CHAMBERLAIN, a widow 55 years of age, residing in the city of Greensboro, came to her death one night last week through the fatal mistake of taking nux vomica instead of a dose of medicine prescribed by her physician. It is a matter for amazement that, with the tenacity with which poor mortality clings to life, and the countless natural means of our taking-off—guard the frail, vulnerable body as best we may—sacrifices to blind stupidity and criminal carelessness are repeated day after day all over the land.

THE largest advertiser of his business that ever lived in North Carolina—and one of the largest in the United States—says that he once came to the conclusion that he had made himself known to the whole world, and might "let up" on any farther outlay in printers' ink. He found that, just in proportion as he curtailed this expenditure, his business decreased; and he has ever since acted, to his own advantage, on his conviction that his advertising bills were just as much a part of the legitimate expenses of his business as is the salary of his bookkeeper.

"RHODE Island has gone Democratic—the first time this has happened since LEE'S surrender." We are glad to welcome the little bunch of clam-shells and cobble-stones into the true fold, but we have our doubts about the effect of such a political revolution upon "Little Rhody" itself. It seems to us that to inject a big chunk of vigorous, fresh Democracy into the leathern skin of that dried-up atom of New England monopolistic heresies would be like boiling a big North Carolina ham in a tea-pot:—there is danger of the whole thing flying off into the "smithereens" of a general explosion.

THE famous 7th New York Regiment has been invited to participate in the ceremonies incident to unveiling the LEE Monument at Richmond, Va., on the 29th of May. The regiment—while expressing the warmest admiration for the illustrious character of the great Southern soldier and leader—is in doubt as to the propriety of giving official recognition to a ceremony designed to perpetuate the memories of the "rebellion." The views taken of a great many things in this life "depend very much upon how a man was raised," and we contemplate without impatience this hesitancy on the part of the 7th Regiment, feeling that, after all, the observance of the august ceremonies at Richmond is possible without the presence of any Northern troops—but that cause of the "rebellion" was a good cause and a just cause, the 7th Regiment of New York to the contrary notwithstanding.

INSOMNIA.

Valuable Suggestions on How to Alleviate the Evil.

Eleanor Kirk.]

BROOKLYN, NEW YORK, April 8, '90.

A lady in Savannah who has been under the care of a professional "Mental Scientist" submits a question which is sufficiently interesting to be discussed in this public correspondence. "Do you think," she asks in straightforward English, "that one can, by an effort of the will, prevent coffee from keeping one awake at night? I am particularly fond of after-dinner coffee and the lady who has been treating me says: 'Drink the coffee, for it is not the coffee that keeps you awake but your mental attitude toward the coffee. It is simply a thought, and if you do not allow yourself to think that thought, you will drink your coffee and sleep as usual.'"

I have been treated to a goodly amount of this kind of stuff, and as far as I can judge it is unadulterated nonsense. It certainly will not bear a logical test, and has only an unsupported theory to recommend it. The effect of the coffee is exceedingly masked on certain organisms. It stimulates the nerves and brightens the intellect. A strong cup of coffee has helped many a weary sick-bed watcher through the trying nights, and made it possible for the flagging faculties of the penny-a-liner to write the story which brought the bread for the children. On some persons coffee has apparently no effect, but a strong cup of tea in their cases will produce the same stimulating results. To say that these effects are brought about by a belief that they will be produced is to accuse human nature of more imbecility than really belongs to it. We are all unobservant and illogical and foolish enough, and perhaps generally fail to charge effects to their proper causes, but I know the nerve thrill, the beautiful waking up wrought on me by a cup of coffee, and it is an insult to my intelligence to tell me that this intellectual spring is the result of a thought. What next, I wonder, in the way of foolishness? I would like to ask these theorists why the sleep, which follows a dose of morphine, or the unconsciousness coming after the inhalation of ether or chloroform, is not the result of a thought. So I say to my friends who cannot drink coffee at night without subsequent wakefulness, let the cup of dissipation pass you by. The momentary enjoyment and the pleasant effects of this beverage cannot surely make up for the loss of a night's sleep. Banish everything, turn a cold shoulder to everything, that interferes with this most necessary rest. Good sleep is the foundation of good health.

There are unfortunately many innocent sufferers from insomnia. They do not drink coffee, neither do they indulge in any nerve stimulant. They simply cannot sleep. Various remedies have from time to time been prescribed for this most unhappy and dangerous condition, and once in awhile we hear of something that seems to possess real efficacy. In talking over this matter with one of our most distinguished physicians, I was informed that in his opinion a great deal of insomnia is produced by taking to bed the tangles and perplexities of the day. A mother surrounded by her family has no time to think out the problem of daily living; the business man full of schemes and ambitions, and threatened with reverses, cannot plan his campaign surrounded by his clerks and customers. The fine points are all saved till the lights are out and the house is quiet. The habit of drinking intoxicating liquors or of using tobacco is not more quickly contracted than a habit of sleeplessness, my doctor told me, and when once acquired is the most difficult of all habits to overcome. Now, while I cannot agree with the mental healers in their theories of thought-causes, I am a staunch believer in the powers of the will, and so when this physician told me that he had seen scores of cases of chronic insomnia permanently cured by turning off the thought currents simultaneously with the gas or the lamp in one's bed-room, it seemed to me there might be a good deal in the idea. "How is it done?" I asked.

"Let us take a man," he replied, "who is thoroughly aware of the danger, and is anxious to do all he can to secure sleep. I say to this man, when you go into your bed-room determine to stop thinking. By a little mental skill you can reject an intrusive thought. This may be at first only to make place for another, but the second can be disposed of in the same manner, and after a while, by refusing to harbor any one thought, the pictures upon the mind grow mixed and kalideoscopic, and then follows the passiviy which produces comfortable slumber. The experimenter must not grow weary in thus keeping guard over the door of his mind, for a few nights of such picket duty will in the majority of cases bring splendid results. The secret of it is not to allow one thought an instant entertainment. I wish there were some words that would describe the action of the mind in chasing these thoughts. Somebody sometime will give the recipe with as much ease as a good cook tells how her soup is made."

The doctor then added the following excellent advice: "Tell your readers who are suffering from insomnia that, while trying to keep their minds a blank, they should roll the eyes upward, this being the natural position of the eyes in sleep. This is one of the most direct invitations to the drowsy god, and one of the most difficult to decline."

Making Odd Moments Pay.

A boy was employed in a lawyer's office, and he had the daily newspaper to amuse himself with. He began to study French, and at the little desk became a fluent reader and writer of the French language. He accomplished this by laying aside the newspaper, and taking up something not so amusing but far more profitable. A coachman was often obliged to wait long hours while his mistress made calls. He determined to improve the time. He found a small volume containing the "Eclogues" of Virgil, but could not read it, so he purchased a Latin grammar. Day by day he studied this, and finally mastered its intricacies. His mistress came behind him one day as he stood by the horses waiting for her, and asked him what he was so intently reading. "Only a bit of 'Virgil,' my lady." "What! do you read Latin?" "A little, my lady." She mentioned this to her husband, who insisted that David should have a teacher to instruct him. In a few years David became a learned man, and was for many years a useful and beloved minister of Scotland. A boy was hired to open and shut the gates to let the teams out of an iron mine. He sat on a log all day by the side of the gate. Sometimes an hour would pass before the teams came, and this he employed so well that there was scarcely any fact in history that escaped his attention. He began with a little book on English history that he found on the road. Having learned that thoroughly, he borrowed of a minister "Goldsmith's History of Greece." The good man became greatly interested in him and lent him books, and was often seen sitting by him on the log, conversing with him about the people of ancient times. Boys, it will pay you to use your leisure moments well.

What Onions are Here For.

The Sturdy Oak.]

When I see a person habitually refuse onions at the table from fastidiousness about their smell, I am sorry for her and for the camel that is doomed to be swallowed by the one who strains at the gnat. That this vegetable is naturally relishing is shown in the constant use made of it in soups, chowders, meat dressings and compotes. If any do not like onions, it will pay to cultivate the taste. In several countries of Europe onions with bread form a staple diet for the laboring people, the two articles being a match in strength-giving qualities. Their virtues as a disinfectant among the waste tissues of the inner man are too obvious to need more than a mention. An all-round argument lies in the fact that Americans are the most nervous of nations and onions the best of nerve food. Allowing celery as a nervine all the credit claimed for it, and yet for cheapness and for being conveniently to be had at all seasons, onions have much the advantage. Raw beef steak and onions chopped almost to a pulp, and spread in sandwich fashion on slices of diet bread, make an idea. food for convalescents and for any one in feeble health.

Give Your Shoes a Rest.

"Yes sir," said a prominent shoe dealer, recently, "that is good advice about wearing shoes. If a man would never wear his shoes more than two days in succession, and at least once a month go over them with a brush dipped in vaseline, he would find that they would give much better satisfaction and last much longer. To do this a man ought to have three pairs of shoes. Then he could give each pair one day of work and two days of rest. During these two days the leather has time to regain elasticity and stretch out the wrinkles the foot has made. The wrinkles become breaks in the leather if the shoe is continuously worn. The man who now wears out three pairs of shoes, one after another, a year, will find that the same number will last him two years if worn as above suggested. Of course I am willing if he wears them out in one year."

The authorities say that the duration of a lightning flash is not infinitesimal but that the flash lasts a measurable time. For example, if one sets a camera in rapid vibration, and exposes in it a plate so as to receive the impression of the flash, it is found that the impressions appear widened out on the negative, showing the negative to have moved during the time the flash was in existence.

Why He Bought It.

Tid-Bits.]

Wife—I've just found a receipted hatters bill in your pocket. I thought you said you didn't feel able to buy yourself a new silk hat just now?

Husband—No, indeed; that was one I bought to pay a debt with.

A Victim of Circumstances.

Texas Siftings.]

Judge—How did you come to rob this man in broad daylight on a frequented thoroughfare?

Highwayman—I couldn't help it, Judge; I had an engagement for every night that week.

A Privilege of Old Age.

Dr. Holmes in the Atlantic.]

A wise old man, the late Dr. James Walker, President of Harvard University, said that the great privilege of old age was the "getting rid of responsibilities." These hard-working veterans will not let one get rid of them until he drops in his harness, and so gets rid of them and his life together. How often has many a tired old man envied the superannuated family cat, stretched out on the rug before the fire, letting the genial warmth tranquilly diffuse itself through all her internal arrangements! No more watching for mice in dark, damp cellars, no more watching the savage gray rat at the mouth of his den, no more scurrying up trees and lamp-posts to avoid the neighbor's cur, who wishes to make her acquaintance. It is very grand to "die in harness," but it is very pleasant to have the tight straps unbuckled and the heavy collar lifted from the neck and shoulders.

Rivers and Harbors.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17.—The House committee on rivers and harbors to-day completed the river and harbor bill. The total appropriation is a little over $20,000,000. The items of importance in the bill to North Carolina are as follows: Beaufort, $15,000; inland waterway between Beaufort and New River, $15,000; Cape Fear River, $150,000; Cape Fear River at and below Wilmington, $100,000; Currituck Sound, Coinjock Bay and North River, $100,000; Neuse River, $12,000; Pamlico and Tar River, $10,000; Roanoke River, $20,000; Ocracoke Inlet, $90,000; Mack's River, $10,000; Fishing Creek, $10,000. South Carolina: Great Pee Dee River, $12,500; Santee River, $30,000; Waccamaw River, $12,500; Wappoo Cut, $10,000; Wateree River, $12,500; Beaufort River, $12,500.

Sleep the First Law of Nature.

Sleeplessness is the result of over-physical or mental effort. When a man works beyond his strength, or thinks or studies more than rest can restore, then, sooner or later, comes that inability to sleep soundly, that wakefulness which is more wearying even than bodily labor, and which feeds the debility which first gave rise to it. The result is, a man is always tired, never feels rested, even when he leaves his bed in the morning; hence he wastes away, and finds repose only in the grave, if, indeed, insanity does not supervene. It is too often a malady remediless by medical means. Avoid, then, all overeffort of mind and body; it is suicidal. Whatever you do, get enough sleep; whatever you do, take enough rest to restore the exhausted energies of each preceding twenty-four hours.

Obstructions in the Eye.

Washington Star.]

When you get a cinder or speck of dust in your eye, don't rub it. Don't touch it. Don't pull down the lid. Don't put your hand near it. Let it alone. This is very hard advice to follow, and in nine cases out of ten you will find yourself rubbing your eye before you know it. But if you can refrain from touching your eye at all, the action of that organ will itself cast out the offending mote in much quicker time and with far less irritation, while your efforts would only hinder it and perhaps fasten the intruder so that it will stay a long time. Of course, if it is a particle of metal you will consult a surgeon or oculist at once; but ordinary substances are best treated as above indicated. Some people say: "Rub the other eye," but this is of no use.

Do Veils Hurt Eyes?

Washington Post.]

Oculists have said that dotted veils, those of the transparent, filmy tissue, were injurious to the eye. The cross-bars of old fashioned veils were most irritating to the sight, and cross eyes are reported as frequent from their use, but dotted veils, by breaking the barred lines, prevent any serious affection of the vision. On the contrary, they are a benefit. Besides they cast a soft and tender shadow beneath the eyes, and soften a direct gaze into one that becomes sympathetic and confiding through the fine meshes. They are infinitely valuable to the woman with no complexion. She may have a thousand tiny blemishes in her skin which the carefully adjusted veil will conceal.

Decided that Her Heart was Right.

Terre Haute Express.]

Yabsley—If ever I marry I shall marry a woman of education.

Wickwire—I used to talk that way myself. But, in fact, I never had a thought of marrying the present Mrs. Wickwire until one day I got a letter from her announcing that her uncle had "d-i-d-e" and left her sixty-five thousand "d-o-l-l-e-r-s."

STATE AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Our thanks are due and hereby tendered the Hon. G. W. SANDERLIN, State Auditor, for a handsomely bound copy of his annual report for the last fiscal year. Guided by that precision and care in the compilation of this report which have in the past characterized all of Mr. SANDERLIN'S acts in private as well as public life, the reader finds it replete with interest and full of information for the general public.

The Raleigh News and Observer briefly summarises the whole report as follows:

"The general taxes of the State were $467,784.50; of which land paid $210,050.30, town lots paid $63,694.20, merchants paid $29,467.27, and marriage licenses $4,119.84. Banks $2,490. Railroads paid on property $28,010.31, and on franchises $3,482.42. Without particularizing, the entire amount of taxes received was $629,920.90. This, however, does not include the fertilizers tax of $37,500. Other receipts were dividends from the N. C. R. R. $162,012. Penitentiary earnings $147,454.81.

The total amount received by the treasurer was $976,887.77. The disbursements were $1,012,938.43. The school taxes which are payable to the county treasurers were $679,944.04; while the county taxes were $945,917.13. The entire taxes paid by the people for State, county and schools were thus $2,250,000. If city and town taxes amount to $250,000 more, the cost of supporting government in North Carolina is about two millions and a half, say at the rate of $1.50 per capita. The valuation of land is $105,000,000; of town property, $31,800,000; of personal property, $75,000,000; and of railroad property, $11,713,000, making a total of $223,673,000."

That portion which refers to Cumberland county is of peculiar interest to our people, and we give it as follows: 536,815 acres of land, valued at $1,337,385; 1,015 town lots, valued at $680,696; 1,116 horses, valued at $54,505; 1,356 mules, $70,504; 2 jacks and jennies, $30; 1,090 goats, $1,090; 7,480 cattle, $42,429; 20,595 hogs, $21,031; 4,835 sheep, $5,080; farming utensils, &c., valued at $146,078; money on hand or on deposit, $40,725; solvent credits, $315,862; other personal property to the amount of $239,766; making a grand total of $2,864,690.

By reference to the report of 1887—the last assessment—we find the aggregate amount of real and personal property in the State was $210,035,453; an increase in 1888 and 1889 of $13,637,547.

The single county having the largest valuation of real and personal property is Wake, in which the capital of the State is located, whose aggregate value is $9,440,609; while the county having the smallest is Dare, its real and personal property being valued at only $287,477.

The total number of registered polls in the State is 215,121. Of this number 148,527 are white and 66,594 are colored.

In Cumberland county the total number of polls is 3,088, of which number 1,882 are white and 1,206 are colored.

In all there are 28,715,324 acres of land in the State, valued within itself at $105,025,149.

THE THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

For many years the Third Congressional district has been the battle-ground of many heated political conflicts, that of the loyalty of friendship boldly asserted as well as implied, and conventions that enacted scenes of the wildest enthusiasm. Prospects at one time the "size of a molehill" have suddenly loomed up in the distance as large and portentous as the mountains, in all their greatness and grandeur, only to be suddenly dashed to pieces against the "rocky shoals" and ruffled billows of the political waters. By reason of her having aspirants peculiarly fitted and eminently qualified in every particular for Congressional honors, great importance has been attached to the action of Cumberland in the approaching convention, and all eyes have apparently been turned in this direction.

It is pretty generally understood that Col. T. H. Sutton, who has so many warm friends and supporters in the district, is not a candidate for the Congressional nomination, it being understood that his valuable services will be needed in the next Legislature, where his talent and repeated efforts have made him of great and indisputable value to the people of the Cape Fear country.

The friends of Col. Wharton J. Green will therefore present his name to the convention for a seat in the Fifty-Second Congress. For four years Col. Green served the people of this district in the councils of the nation with signal success, and how well his sagacious and well-directed efforts were appreciated by the people, and how faithfully he discharged his obligations, can best be attested by his popularity among the masses, and how deeply he had ingratiated himself into the confidence and esteem of his constituency. During his stay in Congress he introduced several important measures, and often brought to his assistance the aid and support of members of long experience and influence.

As the district stands today, Cumberland Harnett, Moore, Wayne, Sampson, Duplin, Onslow, Pender and Bladen counties compose the Third Congressional district, and up to the present time we know of only two open and avowed candidates in the district, besides Col. Green, to wit: McClammy, of Pender, and Aycock, of Wayne. Duplin, like Moore, has an aspirant in this direction, in the person of B. F. Grady, Esq., a learned gentleman, ripe scholar and man of varied experience and observation; while the latter is the home of Mr. D. E. McIver, a young man of considerable promise.

Messrs. McClammy and Aycock—the latter a Cleveland elector in 1888, who rendered faithful and valiant services on every stump, the former the sitting member who has likewise fathered several important measures and otherwise guarded the interests of his constituents all over the district—are too well known to need any thing at our hands, with the "silver tongued orator," D. H. McLean, of Harnett, to hear from. With such material to draw from as the district can boast of, it would indeed be a difficult matter for the Convention to make a mistake.

Recognizing the fact that the people are jealous of their rights to decide for themseves by a convention of the people who shall be their standard-bearer, THE OBSERVER deems it unwise and inexpedient to assume the role of a dictator, or to champion the cause of any one man over all the rest, but quietly awaits the action of the Convention, and promises in advance its undivided support for the nominee thereof, always taking that pride, and feeling that interest, in our home folks that is possible.

THE WILMINGTON RAILROAD CELEBRATION.

A Pleasant Jollification—Gloomy Weather Succumbs to the Sunshine of Hospitality—Excursions to the Sound—Firemen's Parade—The Banquet, &c., &c.

The guests participating in the pleasures of the celebration by the city of Wilmington of the completion of the eastern extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway were representative of every section of North Carolina traversed by the line of road—its progress, material resources and industrial development—whilst distinguished guests from other points throughout the State, with a fine delegation of the most substantial citizens of Bennettsville, S. C., and tributary country, evinced their sense of the importance of this great reunion by their presence.

The greater part of Wednesday and Thursday would have done very fairly for a big, sodden slice of Fayetteville Centennial weather—therefore the visitors from that city were very properly expected to bear it as best they could without apology from the management; but neither clouds nor rain availed to throw a damper on the ardor of a great crowd bent on merry-making, to a large percentage of which the two days' excursions to beach and sound were entrancing novelties, brimful of enjoyment. They luxuriated in roast oysters, reveled in the immensity of foaming billows and tossing sea, wondered at the mammoth cotton compresses, marveled at the leviathan ships in port, visited the interesting Pine Fibre and Fertilizer Works, and "did" the city completely in hacks and pedestrian companies. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the celebration's programme was the parade and practice of the fire department on Thursday afternoon. The streets were still in disagreeable condition, but the rain had consented to hold up, and by 5 o'clock Front street was packed with a great throng of people, while the balconies of the Orton House and the windows and casements of all the buildings along the route of the parade were crowded with spectators. Headed by the Wilmington Cornet Band—a fine corps, to whom the guests were also indebted for sweet music during the banquet—and escorted by a platoon of police (a very imposing body of men), with the Mayor and other officials in carriages, the steam fire-engines, hose-carts, ladder-trucks and companies passed in review; and, when the gallant old gray, "Harry Brock," with glossy coat, fire still in his eye and vigor in his limbs, pranced opposite the Orton House, a hearty cheer greeted the city's old favorite.

The trials of skill and speed did all imaginable honor to the efficiency of the department. The men were in their places, the hose laid, and water thrown with a celerity that brought out enthusiastic applause, while the practice on the lofty vertical ladders, in the handling and management of which the men were veteran experts, was not unworthy of Philadelphia or New York. We congratulate the fire chief of Wilmington on the entertainment he furnished to the strangers within his gates.

At 9 o'clock on Thursday evening the invited guests commenced to throng into the banquet hall—the immense space of the Champion Cotton Press Company having been devoted to their reception. The decorations were ornate and tasteful:—an artistic and beautiful blending of bunting, the flags of the United States and all foreign nations, with pleasing and attractive groupings of flower and evergreen here and there. Mr. R. N. Sweet, director and supervisor of the decorations, bore his honors modestly, but the laurels of the victor were plentifully bestowed upon him. Between 700 and 800 guests were comfortably seated to the enjoyment of the banquet, whose tempting bill-of fare brought down blessings upon the head of the chef of the Orton House from the delighted gourmets as they settled themselves down to business.

Nearly midway the hall was a stand from which the graceful and eloquent master of ceremonies, Mr. J. H. Currie, introduced the speakers, and from which the presiding officer, Mr. C. H. Robinson, issued his directions, and just in rear of this was a raised platform and banquet table surmounted by an immense cake, a triumph of skill in design and construction, with the legend in sugar and essences: "C. F. & Y. V. R. R.—Welcome," and bearing on its crest an engine and train of cars. On this platform were seated President Julius A. Gray; Hons. Alfred Rowland, C. M. Stedman, A. M. Waddell, and W. J. Green; Dr. W. A. Lash, of Stokes; Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, of Greensboro; his Honor Mayor Fowler; Mr. G. W. Williams, of Wilmington; Messrs. W. F. Carter, W. A. Moore and W. Fulton, of Surry; Mr. Wrenchall, of Baltimore; Mr. R. T. Gray, of Raleigh; Col. K. M. Murchison, of New York; Hon. D. F. Caldwell, of Guilford, etc.

The following were the regular toasts and responses, which we regret that our space will not permit us to give in extenso, with the exception of that of the President of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway—important as matter of record in the published history of the celebration. The addresses of Col. Waddell, Hon. Alfred Rowland and Messrs. R. T. Gray, W. F. Carter, H. C. McQueen, Mayor Fowler and Capt. Bixby were very graceful, while, without invidiousness, perhaps that of Maj. Stedman was the chef d'œuvre of the evening.

COL. GRAY'S SPEECH.

To do justice to the sentiment just offered would require greater abilities than I possess, and more time than it would be proper to consume on an occasion like this. The possibilities of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway as a promoter of the internal commerce of North Carolina are past computation. The magnificent lines of railway that cross our State north and south have done much for the development of her resources, but much more for the development of the trade centres and commercial marts of other States. I would not, if I could, detract aught from the credit due them and their able managers for the part they have performed in the material advancement of North Carolina; but it is true, nevertheless, that, by reason of their location, they have made her tributary to the progress and improvement of the seaboard cities of other States rather than her own.

The Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley, starting from the commercial metropolis of our State, and traversing her territory to its northwestern limits, has but one mission to fulfill and one interest to serve, and that is the building up of the commercial and industrial prosperity of North Carolina.

This was the inspiration which led to its inception, and is the one object which has been kept prominently in view during the weary years of its construction. It reopens the natural and old time highway of trade from the mountains to the sea, which has so long been obstructed and its traffic diverted into other channels, and restores to Wilmington the territory to which she is justly entitled. It brings within easy reach of our own seaport the rich and varied products of the middle, Piedmont and mountain sections of our State which will here find an outlet to the markets of the world. It opens to the importers and jobbers of Wilmington a vast field for the distribution of their merchandise along its 350 miles of main line and branches, and by its northwestern connection enables them to compete for the trade of the great valley of the Mississippi, in West Indian and South American products. It is the aim and purpose of the managment to afford every facility in their power to the business men of Wilmington for the successful cultivation of this field. They will find it already occupied, and no easy task to wrest it from the grasp of those who have for so many years fattened upon its luxuriant pasturage. But by systematic, continuous and persistent effort and liberal dealing, aided by that State pride which should prompt every true North Carolinian to foster and encourage the building up of a great seaport town within her borders, it can and will be done. At no period of our State's history has this sentiment of State pride been so prominent a characteristic of our people as the present; and at no period of her history have they so much to be proud of. In every department of human progress she is fully abreast with her Southern sisters, and yet she is but in the infancy of her development. Only a small fraction of her immense resources has been utilized, and I predict that the next decade will show a marvelous advance in all her material interests if her people will wisely and diligently avail themselves of the boundless wealth which nature has placed within our reach. And now, in behalf of my associates and myself, I desire to express to the people of Wilmington our grateful thanks for the liberal aid and encouragment which they have given us in the great work of internal improvement whose completion we celebrate to-night, and for the generous and enthusiastic welcome with which you have inaugurated its entrance to your beautiful city by the sea.

The world's applause is but an empty breath; but we could not help thinking—as Col. Gray received the spontaneous and soulful greetings of his listeners—that his was an enviable position. No stereotyped endorsement, no perfunctory tribute, hailed him: it was the heartfelt approval by North Carolinians of a North Carolinian, pushing forward to its magnificent consummation a great work of North Carolina internal improvement, enlisting his talents in North Carolina development, and devoting his life to the promotion of North Carolina interests.

At the conclusion of the regular toasts Hon. D. F. Caldwell, of Guilford, and Hon. W. J. Green, of Cumberland, were invited to the stand, responding by ringing and entertaining speeches. Capt. Bixby's toast in melodious refrain aptly closed the festivities of the banquet.

The people of Wilmington did all honor to their guests in their own universal and jubilant participation in the celebration. They were "deiked" in their best, and the decorations of the streets and buildings were handsome and profuse. Their reputation throughout the State and the South for gracious and unbounded hospitality borrows new lustre from this occasion—and we have never seen any similar great assemblage disperse so happy and well-pleased.

Mr. Max Jackson is visiting Fayetteville, and is warmly greeted by his many friends.

RAILROAD TAXATION.

The legislative committee on railroad taxation—consisting of Senators E. W. Kerr, of Sampson, and C. B. Aycock, of Wayne, and Representatives T. H. Sutton, of Cumberland, M. E. Carter, of Buncombe, and J. B. Holdman, of Iredell—has been in session at Raleigh for the past few days.

Col. Julius A. Gray, President of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, and Vice-President of the North State Improvement Company, appeared before the committee last Saturday. The Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Company has agreed to surrender its right to exemption from taxation.

From Mr T. H. Sutton, who returned home last evening, we learn of the surrender of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Co. in the matter of taxation—which means a gain of $15,000 revenue to the State. Truly the committee has done a great work or the people.

Terrible Sensation in Sampson.

The history of crimes in North Carolina has recorded some foul deeds, heinous crimes and blood-curdling murders; but nothing in our recollection—not excepting the brutal murder of Miss Turlington by the heartless Bingham—can equal the murder of Mr. E. M. Butler, of Sampson, last week by his own son, the most correct and concise account of which we give below, from the News and Observer of Tuesday last, as follows:

Senator E. W. Kerr, who came up from Clinton last evening, brought further particulars of the Clinton assassination. Avery Butler, the 14-year-old son of E. M. Butler, was the murderer of his father He confessed it when asked about it and has been captured. Another party was at first suspected, but all doubt has now been removed. An inquest over the dead body revealed the fact that the missile which had inflicted the fatal wound was a section of an iron rod which had been filed off evidently for the purpose. It was shown to a blacksmith at Clinton and he immediately remembered having sawed it off for young Avery Butler. It was further learned that he had gone to the house of his brother on the day before the shooting and taken away a gun which belonged to him. When asked about the matter, young Butler confessed that he shot his father, and said he did it because he whipped him severely about three weeks ago for aiding his sister in an elopement marriage. When he found out that he was going to be arrested he ran away to the house of his uncle, about four miles distant, but was arrested within an hour afterward.

We are glad to see Mr. Jno. C. Haigh out after a severe attack of "la grippe."

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial Bottles of this wonderful Discovery Free at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug-store.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will Cure Rheumatism and Skin Eruptions.

OXFORD, N. C., July 13, 1888.

MRS. JOE PERSON—Madam:—As I have been very much benefited by the use of your Remedy, I think it my duty to testify to the same. I have for some time past been troubled with Rheumatism, and also an eruption of the skin on the chest and shoulders which was very annoying. I used your Remedy, and have been entirely cured of the skin disease, and very much relieved of the Rheumatism. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public. Respectfully, GEO. B. REAVIS.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a Good Nervine.

OXFORD, N. C.

I take pleasure in stating that I have found great relief from taking Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy as a tonic and nervine. I had not been able to sleep well for more than twelve months, but, after using one-half dozen bottles, suffered no longer from restlessness, but have sweet, refreshing sleep; in fact, sleep is now natural and sound. I used it also for indigestion, and it made a perfect cure.

MRS. M. E. LIVINGSTONE.

My Remedy is now put in plain, round, pint packing bottles, no name blown. The carton holding bottle is now printed altogether in black ink instead of black and red as heretofore; my signature on each label is now written with pen and ink, instead of lithographed as formerly. Every label and carton numbered, as in physicians' prescriptions. The Wash packages are printed altogether in black ink and numbered. Persons buying the Remedy should see that the new style is furnished them, as I cannot guarantee any other to be genuine. MRS. JOE PERSON, Kittrell, N. C.

WORD OF WARNING!

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT IMITATIONS!

They are usually cheaper, as they use that method of imposing on the public. One of them held their price at $2.50 per gallon for nearly two years. Not being able to get their medicine in at that, they have now reduced it to $1.50, which is evidence enough that it has not met with success. A good medicine sustains itself in all communities. A cheap medicine is the last thing on earth a suffering man wants. The genuine sold only in one gallon jugs at $3.00 per gallon.

Cause of Disease, as Given by the Scientific Men of the Age.

Monsieur Pasteur, who for years has made them a special study, first discovered that minute insects were the causes of spreading the most deadly contagions through their astonishing rapidity of reproduction. Pasteur discovered them in myriads in human blood, in sheep and rabbits and rats. He found that the Microbe was the direct cause of the Variolosis, or Smallpox—Bronchitis, Yellow Fever and other contagious diseases.

The Microbe in the human system attacked by Variolosis is thread-like, cylindrical, somewhat swelled. It is the smallest of all powerful magnified animal organism. It breeds by the thousand per minute. Pasteur, after making a close study of the Microbe, discovered that the quickest way to exterminate them was by the free inhalation of Oxygen gas, or by liquids charged with that gas; but admits that the time must come when some powerful liquid will be discovered that will effectually destroy the Microbe, and that liquid must contain such gaseous combinations as will directly destroy, in the human body, those germs or microbes of disease.

Dr. Maolangan, a promment member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, says:

The idea that many of the diseases to which man and the lower animals are subject result from the presence in the system of minute organisms or microbes, is not a new one.

The introduction of the microscope, the discovery of the yeast plant, and the further parasitic nature of many cutaneous diseases have proved conclusively that it is attributable to the Germ or Microbe Theory of Disease.

This theory has positively proved that many diseases are due to the presence and propagation in the system of minute living organizations. It is essential, therefore, to become thoroughly acquainted with the class, kind, very competence of the Germs that produce what is now termed the Phenomena of Disease.

Contagious Infection is created, by absolute experience and scientific experiments and proofs, by the existence of minute organisms or microbes. The contagion, or microbe, being irregularly scattered about in the atmosphere, it is evident that the inhalation of one or more of these particles is purely a matter of chance. Yet by such inhalation, no matter how healthy and strong the man or animal thus inhaling it, it will as a matter of course, be stricken down, sooner or later, by the myriads of microbes that will, according to the contagious poisonous matter inhaled, breed into his system. To exterminate those it has been found that liquids strongly impregnated with gases and alkalis have been the most efficacious, and it is but a matter of time when a liquid strongly impregnated with those substances will be discovered that will effectually destroy the microbes or Germs of Disease.

It is an organic form of such extreme minuteness as to be classified under the head of Micrococci. The Microbe is spheroidal, transparent and of gelatinous consistency. It enters the human system by inhalation, or exists in the water or milk we drink, or the food we eat. It is able to stand the greatest amount of heat. By the most careful study and frequent experiments, microbes have been inducted, by ivory needles, into meats that have been thoroughly roasted and boiled, and yet, when taken from the ovens, pans, gridirons or pots, the microbes have been found to be yet alive and propagating, thus showing that even cooking has no effect on them.

Prof. Tyndall says of Microbes: They are found in myriads and countless shapes, floating in the air, destroying man, as well as beasts and vegetation. The virtual triumph of the antiseptic system of surgery is based on recognition of living contagia or microbes, as the agent of purification; and, the discovery made, it behooves the closest study of the subject by the physician, surgeon, chemist, agriculturist, in fact by all men, to discover some powerful liquid substance, being charged with some so far undiscovered gaseous substance, that will penetrate through every tissue of the human animal or vegetable system, and effectually destroy the death-dealing pest, the microbe.

The word Microbe was first introduced by Prof. Charles Sedillot and indorsed by the great philologist Little, who caused its adaptation by the Academie de Sciences of France, and thus had it admitted as a scientific term to be used by all scientists.

Science has taught us that the direct causes of contagious diseases are directly attributable to a minute, invisible, yet death-dealing insect, feeding, living on the germ of corruption inhaled, absorbed in the system, whether human, animal or vegetable.

It is designated in Science as the Microbe; the most deadly of all animalculae, propagating millions, and spreading disease wherever it makes its appearance. The extermination of that curse to the human race has taxed the ablest scientists, who have devoted hours of study in each and every branch of their different researches, to check the frightful inroads made by the Microbe upon whatever it attacks.

Wm. Radam, a florist and a botanist of Austin, Texas, who, from his early boyhood, had been brought up to take care of and watch tenderly over the plants, seeding slips, that were extensively grown in his farther's world-famed nurseries, having frequently seen his favorite plants suddenly droop and die, was the first to make the Microbe his special study, and its extermination the object of his life.

Fortunately for William Radam, he was able to command the means that enabled him to purchase the instruments needed to perfect his experiment, as he patiently advanced in his studies of the microbe. He was not the man to rely merely on book learning, though he studied the theories advanced by scientists.

William Radam, after years of patient study and analysis, found the true origin of the Germs of Disease, and by a secret inspired by Nature's close study was able to produce what will be read below as the exterminator of the dreadful scourge Microbe—as recommended by the greatest authorities, and world-famed authorities, on that subject, who all admit that to exterminate the pest and scourge requires just such a liquid, surcharged with gases, as William Radam's Microbe Killer.

Testimonials.

Now read the testimonials and convince yourself if they are genuine or not. Please investigate. I will forfeit $1,000 if you find any of our testimonials not genuine. We will give address, so that you can write to any of them. Please do not forget to inclose a stamp, and you certainly will receive an answer. We have a great many other testimonials in our office and have the consent to show them to the afflicted—but have no authority to publish them. From the following testimonials you can see at a glance that this medicine cures every disease:

Consumption.

Pasadena, May 13, 1889.—Microbe Killer Co. I can recommend Radam's Microbe Killer for the cure of consumption. I have been sick four years. I have employed the best physicians in San Francisco, San Jose, Los Angeles, and I am now taking my fifth jug of William Radam's Microbe Killer. I have gained fourteen pounds in three months, and I note a steady improvement. The medicine has accomplished more for me in the short time I have tried it than all the doctors and the outlay of $7,000, and I hope all my friends who are afflicted in the same way I was will use it.

J. F. RENOULT.
Formerly of San Francisco, now a resident of Pasadena

Complicated Disease.

Sacramento, April 3, 1889.—Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: I take pleasure in adding my testimonials to that of others who have been cured by the virtue of your me icine. I have been afflicted for several years, and for the last three or four years have not been able to work, having been confined to my bed a good deal of my time. My system was so thoroughly poisoned from catarrh of over thirty years standing, in conne tion, with the alarming symptoms of malaria and diseased liver, that life was a burden. As a result, the liver, kidney, urinary organs, heart, bronchial tubes and lungs were all involved, causing dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism, with many alarming indescribable symptoms. Have been under the care of physicians and taken all the popular patent physics and medicines of the day, and belt, batteries and baths without avail, and had almost given up hope of relief. But one of God's good and perfect gifts to man (through the instrumentality of man) was made known to me by a letter to my wife from her father, a man of seventy-six, in Albany, Mo., stating that Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer was curing all diseases given up by physicians, and advising me to use it and not give it up until a cure is effected. Coming from the source it did, I at once had two gallons expressed from St. Joseph, Mo., costing me $3 per gallon, but the cheapest medicine I ever took. Commenced taking it in December last. Have taken seven gallons and have been improving slowly, but surely. Have now gained my usual weight, and feel better than for years. Am over 60 years of age. No money would induce me to be without it in my family. I hear many good reports from those who are now using it. Yours respectfully, etc.

L. L. GODDARD.

Dyspepsia

Lynchburg, Texas.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents Radam's Microbe Killer, Houston, Texas: My sufferings from dyspepsia and bayou fever made my life a misery, and at times I was so despondent as to care little to live, when I heard of your great medicine, and purchased a gallon. It gives me pleasure to inform you that before a gallon had been used $1,000 could not have bought the remainder of the gallon had I not known where to get more.

Yours truly,
CAPT. GEO. L. SMITH.

Dysentery.

Galveston, Texas, March 10, 1888.—A Behrends, Agent for Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer.—Dear Sir: I have been suffering for years with a complicatio of diseases which originated from diseased liver. I had dysentery, bloody flux and internal tumors. I consulted some of the most eminent physicians in the city, and used their medicines for a long time without getting any relief. I was finally given up to die, when a friend advised me to try the Microbe Killer. As the last resort, I gave it a trial, and the relief it gave me was wonderful. When I commenced to take Microbe Killer I weighed only eighty-six pounds; my present weight is 146 pounds, and I am restored to my usual good health.

JOHN W. DERRICK.

Sworn to and subscribed to before me this 10th day of March, A. D. 1888. JOHN A. CAPLEN, Notary Public; Galveston Co. Tex.

San Marcos, Tex., Sept. 17, 1887.—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: The Microbe Killer, is a splendid thing. Can I get the agency here? My little boy that was affected with worms is cured and getting fat and rosy. My father is also using your medicine, and is improving very fast. Very respectfully,
MRS. ALICE LEE.

Deaf & Dumb Institute, Austin Texas, July 11, 1888—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: I certify that I have been a great sufferer with pains in my chest, catarrh in the head, and headache for years. I have spent hundreds of dollars in travelling in Colorado, Utah, California, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota, and found no relief. I have used four gallons of your medicine and I am almost entirely well. My headache and catarrh are gone. I am still using the medicine. I will send another gallon to my brother.

W. H. LACY, Sup rintendent

Houston, Texas, October 9, 1888.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents William Radam's Microbe Killer—Gentlemen: I have been using the Microbe Killer for malarial fever and general debility, and write you to certify that I am again strong and healthy, and am satisfied that Microbe Killer is a sure remedy for those diseases.

R. E. LEWIS.
Prop. Capital Stables.

Nashville, Tenn.—I have been a sufferer from Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis for nearly twenty years. I have tried the best physicians and remedies without any relief and now, since I have been taking Microbe Killer, I am entirely cured and can recommend it to all.

M. HERNSSIN, J. P.
Nashville, Tenn.

To Whom it may Concern:—This is to certify that after taking one jug of Microbe Killer I was permantly cured of a severe attack of bronchitis and pulmonary inflammation, said illness having resisted all methods of medical treatment.

I cheerfully recommend Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer as being more than is claimed for it.

HENRY V. MIELLY,
With Rice Born & Co., 77 Camp street New Orleans, February 27, 1887.

The only case of Leprosy ever known to have been cured by any medicine. James Kavanagh, Jr., is now entirely recovered and is back again in New Orleans. We are treating five other cases of Leprosy, all successfully.

Fifth District, New Orleans, July 23, 1888—To whom it may concern: I positively assert that my son was afflicted with that most hideous and loathsome of diseases, Leprosy, and of a character most malignant. Any persons who may be skeptical regarding this case are most cordially invited to call and see him now, or at an early date at my residence, No. 167 Eliza St, Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, because if not seen soon and he continues to improve as he has since beginning to use Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer, they will not have an opportunity of giving an honest verdict concerning his case.

Respt'y, James Kavanah.

Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, July 24, 1889.—I, the undersigned, do hereby declare that I have been afflicted with Leprosy for over four years. My sickness has been declared Leprosy by the leading physicians and the public generally, being entirely abandoned and left alone to die, but thanks to Mr. Radam, whose medicine or Microbe Killer I have been using for five weeks with the most beneficial results, I am satisfied that by continuing his great and wonderful remedy a few months longer I shall be able to go to work and support my poor and aged father, upon whom I have been a drawback in his declining years.

JAS. KAVANAGH, JR.

Heart Disease.

Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: My son, 14 years of age, was cured with less than one gallon of Radam's Microbe Killer, after being given up by physicians as incurable with enlargement of the heart. My wife was also cured of a severe bronchial trouble after a failure on the part of the physicians to relieve her.

I confess it far superior to all known remedies.

R. B. KIRKPATRICK.
Sacramento, Cal., April 27, 1889.

Rheumatism.

Nov. 14, 1888.—The William Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: Having tried every suggested remedy for Chronic Rheumatism for more than ten years, I was dubious as to the efficacy of your Microbe Killer, but am frank to admit that a cure, (and I hope a permanent one) was the result after having taken not quite the entire jug you sent me according to directions. Accept my thanks. I am dear sir, respectfully yours,

FRANCIS P. DOOLY.
Knoxville, Pa.

New York, Sept. 25, 1888—Wm. Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect the Microbe Killer had on me, I would say that if it cost me $100 per gallon, I would not be without it. I took it three weeks, and am now free of all pains and aches. I suffered for the past ten years with muscular rheumatism, and it has been so bad at times as to prevent my attending to business. Very truly yours,

JOHN BLAKEY,
233 Broadway, N. Y.

Kidney Troubles.

Philadelphia, March 30, 1889, S. E. Corner Fourth and Market Streets.—Wm. Radam—Dear Sir:—I have had kidney troubles for three years, accompanied with pains and aching across my back and hips. Suffered very much at times; at night I had pains across the lower part of the abdomen; had considerable inflammation at the neck of the bladder. In general, it almost broke me up. I could get no relief from anything I had taken until I commenced with your Microbe Killer. I feel now like a new person; I will further explain my case to any one writing me. Would advise any one with any disease of the kidneys to use the Microbe Killer.

ELWOOD PICKETT.

Piles.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 15, 1889.—By using Radam's Microbe Killer I have been cured of piles of many years standing.

JOHN LATHEM,
Room 2, Opera House Building.

Frightful Torture

By the ravages of Rheumatism can be stopped with slight cost if you use Radam's Microbe Killer. By external as well as internal treatment you get almost instant relief.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Dear Sirs:—Having suffered with Rheumatism of the nerves for three years, I used five gallons of the Microbe Killer, and I feel entirely cured. I have the greatest confidence in recommending its use, and will keep it on hand as a general tonic. If you desire you can refer any suffering from same disease to me. Respectfully,

MRS. W. L. DELACY,
Oak Park, Ill.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Gentlemen:—I have had your medicine, Microbe Killer, in my family ever since I heard of it last summer. My health has been excellent ever since I began taking it. My family, so far, has escaped la grippe that has been afflicting our neighbors and every body else. I firmly believe in the Microbe theory, and shall never be without the Killer.

Work at Hampton.

Messrs. A. B. Williams, J. D. Williams and J. D. McNeill are now hard at work in the establishment of their shingle and lumber mills on Black River, on the eastern extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Railway. They have access to a country prolific of timber resources, and their enterprise will prove a great factor in the development of that section.

The Brown-stone of Moore County.

Two or three weeks ago we made mention of the brown-stone quarries in the vicinity of Sanford, and of the organization of a company for their development. The editor of the Sanford Express—which, by the way, is one of the best of our North Carolina papers—says:

A representative of this paper while in Wilmington this week called on Mr. W. H. Smith, who is in charge of the government building at that point, for the purpose of learning what could be done with the Sanford brown-stone, a few carloads of which had been shipped to Wilmington. We were highly pleased to learn that this brown-stone had been put to a most severe test, and proved absolutely everything desired in brown-stone. It has two distinct colors, bright and brown-red, and can be carved in almost every conceivable design. Some of it had been worked into the building, and made a better appearance than the other brown-stone. Mr. Smith says he has a bonanza at Sanford, and his plant will be of great advantage to the place.

The Meeting of the Two Dioceses at Tarboro.

To the many readers of the OBSERVER here and elsewhere the following from the Charlotte News will be read with peculiar interest:

The meeting of the Convention at Tarboro next month will be of special interest to Episcopalians throughout the State. It was one hundred years ago the 5th of next June that their first meeting after the Revolution was held at Tarboro. Several meetings were held at the same place from 1789 to 1794, and an organization was effected, and the Rev. Chas. Pettigrew was chosen to be Bishop. From various causes he was never consecrated, and the organization effected fell through. The Diocese of North Carolina was not organized until 1817, but there is much interest attaching to the attempt made to this end in 1790, and the two Dioceses, viz., the Diocese of East Carolina and of North Carolina, included within the limits of this State, have joined in appointing a meeting at Tarboro next month, at which papers will be read and addresses made relating to the history of the Episcopal Church in North Carolina both before and since the Revolution.

We give below the programme of the services, addresses, etc., prepared by the committee and furnished us by their Secretary. Being a matter of great interest to very many persons throughout the State, it is hoped that the State press will give such publicity to the appointments as their space will permit. Such of the papers as are not delivered at the meeting are intended to be published afterwards:

Mr. D. M. Cromartie, a prominent citizen of Bladen county, has been making a visit of a few days with his daughters in this city, Mrs. T. H. Sutton, Mrs. D. H. Ray and Mrs. Thos. Whitted.

Personal Pencilings.

Mr. W. S. Jessup, of Greensboro, spent last Sunday with friends in this city.

Mr. H. B. Peters, of Greensboro, was registered at the Hotel LaFayette last Monday.

Mr. John H. Anderson, Jr., of New York city, has been visiting friends here during the past few days.

Mr. C. E. Pearce, of Greenville, N. C., but now engaged in business in Baltimore, paid this city a short visit last week.

Mr. W. T. Jones, of the great carriage factory of Tyson & Jones, Carthage, N. C., arrived here on Monday afternoon's train.

Mr. H. G. Myrover, who has been spending a few weeks at home, left last week for Greenville, N. C., to engage in the engineering work of the Atlantic Coast Line between that point and Washington.

Mr. Kirkland Huske, now of Wilmington, was among his old friends here for a short time last week—helping to welcome his charming new sister to the love and shelter of the happy home of her wedded life.

Mr. D. M. O'Hanlon and the Misses O'Hanlon, of Cedar Dale, Pender county, spent a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Worth on Haymount, and left on the west-bound train Monday afternoon to visit friends at Greensboro.

Col. E. F. McRae, chairman of the board of commissioners of Robeson county, and editor of the bright, entertaining Maxton Union, was in Fayetteville last week. We regret to know that his esteemed mother, Mrs. Murdoch McRae, is still in very feeble health.

Mr. Jas. R. Williams, Treasurer of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company, and Secretary and Treasurer of the Fayetteville Printing and Publishing Company, left on Monday morning last, via the Wilson Short-Cut R. R., for New York city and New London, Conn., on business connected with the latter company.

Mr. J. H. Currie, of Wilmington, passed a tranquil Sunday with his Cumberland friends—perhaps he wanted to get clear away from the "last, lingering echoes" of the Wilmington celebration. To no one more than to Mr. Currie were the guests on that delightful occasion indebted for graceful courtesies and unwearied efforts to please.

It gave us much pleasure to have with us for a day our friend, Mr. W. E. Bevill, a prominent citizen of Greensboro, who stopped over on his way back home from the merchants' excursion. Mr. W. R. Murray, of the same village, promised to do the same, that we might show him the sights of the city; but the whirl and bustle of the Cape Fear section confused his unaccustomed brain, and he hurried back to the repose and tranquility of his up-country home.

Some of the Fruits.

Mr. Geo. W. Lake, of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway says—and Mr. Lake is always "jam up to the mark" when he does say—that the freight rolled through here just after the Wilmington celebration. The western visitors found time to sniff the salt air and enjoy the oyster roast of the Sound, and speak through the wonderful grapho-phone, and throw up their hats to gallant old "Harry Brock" in the Firemen's Parade, and quaff a toast to the prosperity of their courteous hosts—and still pay their respects as customers to the progressive business men of the chief city of the State. Many of them bought large bills of goods, with the prices of which they were well satisfied, finding that they can purchase heavy articles in Wilmington as advantageously as they can general merchandise in Fayetteville.

A leading citizen of Wilmington informed us that the price which he has recently been offered for a piece of property contiguous to his residence shows an enhancement of its value during the past six months of 50 per cent. This is not an isolated instance of the increase in values of real estate, and is to be credited, in very large measure, to the completion of the eastern extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway.

Reported for the Observer.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C., April 12, 1890.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Winter in most of our towns is the season for social pleasures, but Kenansville is at her best in spring and summer; and on the night of April 1st her season of festivities was inaugurated by a "Phantom Party," given by the young ladies of the town. This entertainment, like the one given a few weeks ago by Miss Bettie Farrior, was a perfect success.

Rev. W. S. Creasy, of Wilmington, conducted the quarterly meeting services at Wesley Chapel last week, and preached here Sunday night in the Presbyterian Church. Quite a number of people came from the country to hear him preach, among whom were Mrs. A. D. McGowen and Miss Lucie McGowan.

Capt. J. G. Kenan was in Faison this week.

Stephen Graham, Esq., has returned from his visit to relatives in Selma, Ala. He predicts a bright future for the people of that section.

Mr. N. H. Sprunt was in Wilmington one day this week.

The Farmers' Alliance of this county, of which Mr. O. W. Sutton is President, met here last week, and has instructed Prof. Grady to go to New Hanover and explain the object and the aims of the Alliance.

Mr. David L. Farrior is at home for a few days' rest.

Profs. Grady and Shaw have decided to begin their summer school for teachers about the first of June. The teachers may expect a rare treat.

Mr. James Archer is demonstrating the fact that he has talents other than those of a drummer, and is devoting much of his time to the cultivation of the soil. A beautiful Jersey is the latest addition to his model farm.

Mr. C. C. Boney paid us a short visit Monday.

Miss Annie Southerland, of Rose Hill, spent a few days with the family of Mr. R. C. Broadhurst.

Memorial Day at Wilmington.

They will be fortunate who have an opportunity of participating in the Memorial services at Wilmington on the 10th of May, and of hearing the oration of Hon. Chas. M. Stedman, one of the most scholarly and eloquent of the distinguished public men of North Carolina. His theme will be: "The Life of Gen. McRae and the Battle of Reams Station." It would be impossible to narrate the stirring incidents of the last without recounting the brilliant services and paying tribute to the conspicuous bravery of the gallant commander of the corps of sharpshooters on that hard-fought field—Capt. W. E. Kyle, of this city.

A Bustling Suburb.

There is work, and plenty of it, in progress on the new Bucket Factory and its vicinity. Mr. C. B. McMillan is erecting comfortable houses for prospective tenants—operatives in the factory and others; side-tracks are being laid down; the freight business of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway keeps long lines of trains in constant motion; and, with the erection of the new machine- and construction-shops of the railroad company, Southwest Fayetteville will be one of the busiest portions of the city.

Orators.

Rev. C. W. Byrd, of Fayetteville, has been chosen to deliver the annual sermon at the close of Jonesboro High School, and Walter H. Neal, Esq., of Laurinburg, will deliver the literary address—May 27th and 28th.

Dwelling Burned.

Rev. S. C. Page, residing near Smith's Ferry, had the misfortune to lose his dwelling house by fire, together with much of his household effects, on the night of the 16th inst. The loss is estimated at eight hundred dollars, with no insurance.

"The Dispersed Abroad."

Mr. Jno. R. Myrover, formerly proprietor of the Fayetteville Observer and Gazette, afterwards connected with the Louisville Courier-Journal, and more recently engaged on the Indianapolis Journal, goes to Washington, D. C., this week to reside. Noting his departure from Indianapolis, the News of that city says:

Mr. John R. Myrover, who has well earned a reputation for exceptional ability as a newspaper man during his connection of a few months with the Journal, has been offered a very desirable journalistic position in Washington, D. C.

A Valuable Invention.

Mr. Baker, prineipal bookkeper in the large mercantile house of Messrs. J. W. Scott & Co., Greensboro, N. C., has lately patented a very valuable invention, for which he has already been offered a large sum in cash. Mr. Baker was, in his early manhood, a clerk with the late Henry L. Myrover, who did an extensive wholesale business on upper Hay street, and we congratulate him upon his good fortune—or, rather, upon the just appreciation of his ability and merit.

Commendable Promptness.

The burning last week of the trestle over Reedy Fork, a few miles west of Greensboro, delayed the east-bound train on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway for several hours—the first time the regular schedule on the line has been encroached on to the extent of even 10 minutes since the completion of the road through to Wilmington. Even during the great Centennial Celebration there was no break in the prompt arrival and departure of trains, except where delays were purposely made for the accommodation of visitors.

Fruit Fair at Red Springs.

The people of Red Springs and Robeson county generally are agitating the question of holding a Fruit Fair at Red Springs this season in connection with the Farmer's Annual Picnic which has been in vogue there for many years The OBSERVER is glad to second the motion made by our valued contemporary, the Farmer and Scottish Chief, last week, and stands ready with sleeves rolled up to contribute all in its power by word or action to make the occasion a grand success.

A Step Forward.

The Senate bill for the erection of a public building, to cost $75,000, at Fayetteville has been reported favorably by the committee, and has been placed on the calendar. If we mistake not, this is a step in advance of what has been accomplished by any previous efforts in this direction, and we begin to entertain some hope that our unmistakable claims for some little recognition at the hands of Congress stand a chance of favorable consideration.

To Delight Us Again.

When, on the evening of the 5th of last December, the Centennial Committee appeared as the sponsors of the Centennial Fund Concert, theirs was the attitude of suitors for public patronage. But the entertainment was such a magnificent equivalent for the price of a ticket—such a generous, overflowing quid pro quo—that the members of the Committee have taken heart of grace; and, as they have a part of the Centennial Celebration indebtedness still pressing on them, they have again enlisted the good offices of their friends, and another Centennial Fund concert will be given in Williams Hall—the date to be announced in our next issue.

Mr. H. R. Novitzky has consented to act as director of the entertainment (and music lovers know how much that implies), and we confidently hope that we may promise the aid of nearly all the fine amateur talent that so delighted us before.

Meeting of the 3rd District Executive Committee.

A letter from Mr. T. J. Armstrong, the chairman, informs us that a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of this the Third Congressional District has been called to meet at Magnolia on the 30th inst., for the purpose of deciding upon the time and place for holding the next Democratic Congressional Convention and the transaction of such other business as properly comes before the Committee.

Death of a Well-Known Printer.

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. L. S. Crow, at Morganton, N. C., on the 13th inst., aged about 45 years. Mr. Crow was well-known in this place, and had relatives in Cumberland county. He was employed for some time in the office of the North Carolina Gazette, on "Punkin Row," and was a steady compositor. He leaves a wife and six children, who have our sincere sympathy.

Kennedy—Fuller.

At 5 P. M. on the 17th inst., in Trinity Church, Durham, Rev. H. T. Darnall officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates, Mr. E. W. Kennedy was married to Miss Marion Fuller—the wedded couple departing immediately after their union at the altar on an extended Northern tour.

Mr. Kennedy is one of the most esteemed citizens of Durham, a ripe and accomplished scholar; the bride is by birth a lovely daughter of our own town, tenderly enshrined in the hearts of our people—daughter of the late B. Fuller and sister of the charming Mrs. A. S. Huske, of this city. Loving wishes for her happiness go out to her from her old home.

The "Diamond."

The boys of the "Electric" and "Cool Spring" base-ball clubs of Fayetteville displayed their skill, agility and prowess in a match game on Smith's field last Saturday morning, with Cameron MacRae as umpire, resulting in victory for the "Electrics" by a score of 26 to 13. "Pick the flint and try 'em again," "Cool Springs!"

The following are the "Electric" nine:

Frank Slocomb, Captain.

p. Louis Broadfoot.
c. Geo. Rose.
1st b. Frank Slocomb.
2nd b. Albert Slocomb.
3rd b. John McLean.
s. s. John Gaster.
c. f. John Schlossberg.
r. f. James MacRae.

The names of the "Cool Spring" nine were not handed in.

Cook—Watson.

The large Hay Street Methodist Church was filled to overflowing at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, 23rd inst., by the great concourse of friends who followed with eager interest the impressive solemnization by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Byrd, of the rite of marriage between Mr. H. L. Cook, a talented young member of the Fayetteville bar, and Miss Minnie Watson, the winsome and accomplished daughter of Walter Watson, Esq., of this city.

The wedding march—composed for the occasion by Mr. W. S. Sheetz—was beautifully rendered, with Miss Mamie Warwick as organist and Mr. W. S. Sheetz as cornetist, and the floral tributes and adornments were faultless in taste and exquisite in design (on such occasions we may expect artistic triumphs from the ladies of that congregation).

Mr. E. H. Sholar, of Raleigh, and Miss Lottie Watson were the bridal attendants, and the ushers were Messrs. John Underwood, J. E. Hawley, G. A. O'Hanlon and A. J. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook departed at 8:40 o'clock for a hymeneal tour North. "Blessed is the bride that the sun shines on"—may the mellow light of a balmy spring day, streaming like molten gold upon the first step of their wedding journey, typify the unflecked brightness of their future life.

Huske—Oliver.

On Wednesday morning, 16th inst., in the beautiful Episcopal Church of the "Elm City," Mr. Benj. R. Huske, of Fayetteville, was united in marriage to Miss Hannah Attmore Oliver, of New Berne, the impressive ceremony being beautifully performed by Rev. John Huske, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Erie, Penn., assisted by Rev. Mr. George, of New Berne.

The party entered the church following the graceful English custom, the bride leaning upon the arm of her father, and met at the door of the vestry-room by the groom and his "best man," whence they were escorted to the chancel-rail by the following attendants:

Miss Mary Oliver, Capt. J. C. Huske.
Miss Lalla Roberts, Mr. Kirkland Huske.
Miss Louine Huske, Mr. Wm. Hollister.
Miss Janet Hollister, Mr. A. M. Fairley.
Miss Lillian Roberts, Mr. J. H. Anderson.
Miss Cadie Fulghum, Dr. Frank Duffy.
Miss Sadie Manly, Mr. C. L. Campbell.
Miss Mary Allen, Mr. J. A. Huske.
Miss Mary Meadows, Mr. J. L. Borden.
Miss Emma Disosway, Mr. J. C. Roberts.

The ushers were: Messrs. N. C. Hughes, John T. Hollister and W. M. P. Bryan.

The artist touch of Miss Mamie Hughes stirred the very soul of music, and from the organ rose and swelled the Io Triomphe of Hymen, Mendelssohn's grand Wedding March, as the bridal party grouped themselves about the altar, where loving hands with faultless taste had woven the trailing garland, floral bell and fragrant wreath—fit types of the bright home of the fair bride, and touching testimonials of the love of those into whose lives the "sunshine" of her nature had so often fallen.

On Tuesday a delightful reception was given at the residence of Mr. W. H. Oliver, and on Wednesday morning, immediately after the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Huske departed for Fayetteville, where they received the loving welcome of many warm hearts, and at Wednesday evening's reception were greeted with heartiest congratulations and many beautiful and valuable gifts, the tributes of friendship and affection.

The Fayetteville visitors to New Berne were charmed by the historic city's refined hospitality—which they repaid by bearing off one of its most cherished treasures, to whom the New Berne Journal addresses the following graceful farewell:

Few young ladies have gained more sincere friendship than had Miss "Sunshine" Oliver, and but few have ever left New Berne carrying with them more kind wishes for their health and happiness than she has. New Berne loses one of its fairest and most popular young ladies, and Fayetteville is to be congratulated that our loss is its gain.

Memorial Day.

Mr. John Roddick has been chosen by the Ladies' Memorial Association Chief Marshal in the ceremonies of the 10th of May, and has named the following assistants: Dr. J. H. Marsh, Messrs. W. C. McDuffie, Jr., Clarence Sedberry, E. F. Moore, Jr., Jno F. Davis, Wilbur G. Hall, B. G. Hollingsworth, Andrew Broadfoot, J. W. Atkinson, W. B. Draughon, W. L. Williams, J. A. McPherson, R. B. Evans, J D. Williams, Jr (2).

The marshals can procure badges at the millinery store of Miss Mary H. Smith. Mr. Roddick, who is prosecuting his duties with warm interest and zeal, hopes to add to the impressiveness of the exercises by both vocal and instrumental music. The liberality of Messrs. Geo. A. Burns, Bevill & Vanstory, C. H. Legg & Co. and J. A. Lambeth in tendering free the use of such carriages as may be needed for the occasion will be generally appreciated.

The Confederate Veterans' Association will be expected to take an honored place in the procession, and the civic organizations will be invited to participate. On account of the large amount of business imperative on Saturday, the Memorial exercises will take place on Monday, 12th of May, of which the Chief Marshal will issue a programme in due time.

Hon. A. M. Waddell's New Book.

After the whirl and hurrah of the Wilmington celebration, we were in fit mood to enjoy intensely the prize which we brought away with us from that city—a copy of "A Colonial Officer and His Times," Hon. A. M. Waddell's last contribution to the history and literature of his State and country. Without the furnishing and equipment requisite to a competent critic, we only know what suits our taste, and Col. Waddell's book is to us an entrancing story. He is one of the few public men who both sound well and read well, and the trenchant, facile pen of the author is as eloquent as the "silver tongue" of the orator.

It is our good luck to have "hosts of warm friends" (to use the vernacular of the newspaper "personal") among the young people, who now and then ask us what they shall read, and it is with peculiar pleasure that we recommend the "Colonial Officer and His Times" as an acquisition to their book-shelves. It is, first of all, a faithful narrative of a most interesting period in our life as a nation, and, secondarily, a beautiful, delicately-limned picture of one whose manly graces and chivalric qualities, inherent in his North Carolina descendants to-day, render them facile principes wherever known.

The work ought to find thousands of readers in this State, and, typograpically, is just cause for pride to the publishing-house of Edwards & Broughton, of Raleigh, N. C.

Religious Notes.

Last Sunday's services were of unusual interest in the different churches throughout the city. At St. John's Episcopal Church Rev. John Huske delivered in the morning and evening able, thoughtful, polished sermons. The love of his venerated father—who listened to his voice, having for the first time ventured out of the confinement of many weeks of physical prostration—must have been intensified by a glow of pride in a son whose life is so noble a dedication.

At the Hay Street Methodist Church Rev. A. R. Shaw, of Fayetteville Presbytery, preached earnestly and feelingly in the morning from Christ's invocation to the fishermen: "Follow me."

Rev. W. B. Oliver occupied his pulpit in the 1st Baptist Church, but returned to Wilmington on Monday, to continue his labors with Dr. Pritchard this week. Of this gifted minister the Wilmington Messenger says:

It is the opinion of all who heard Rev. W. B. Oliver at the First Baptist Church of this city, during the past week, that the good people of Fayetteville are to be congratulated upon having among them a young pastor of such exceptional ability, and it gives us pleasure to know that a man who preaches so well was born and raised in this part of the State.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, with a remarkably powerful sermon by Rev W. D. Morton, State Evangelist. During the services Rev. T. P. Barclay briefly but beautifully reminded his congregation that that was the anniversary Sunday of his pastorate of the church, upon which divine blessing had descended in an increase of 124 in membership during the year. Very moving and eloquent were the remarks of Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill at the close of Mr. Morton's discourse. Union services for the children of the different churches were held in the afternoon, with appropriate addresses and excellent congregational singing, and at night there were union services of the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations.

Rev. W. D. Morton is conducting religious meetings in the Presbyterian Church this week, Revs. T. P. Barclay and C. W. Byrd assisting. Mr. Morton is not only a pulpit orator of conspicuous gifts—with a a resonant, magnetic voice and graceful and easy bearing—but he is a very able and thorough expounder of pure Gospel and Bible story, and an increased manifestation of religious interest may be expected from his labors.

The Action of the Indpendent Company.

The official correspondenee, marking the successive steps which led up to the final action of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry on the question of the adoption of the regulation blue uniform, and the manly, admirable, courteous but thoroughly honest and outspoken resolutions, announcing the decision of the command, are given in full text below. The meeting of Monday night was large—composed of both active and retired members of the company—and the dicussion was animated and general, Col. Haigh, Maj. William Huske, Maj. W. F. Campbell, Capt. Jno. B. Broadfoot, Dr. W. C. McDuffie, Dr. J. A. Hodges, Mr. Chas. Kennedy, Mr. W. P. Wemyss, Capt. Jno. C. Vann, Mr. B. R. Huske, Capt. R. L Daingerfield, of Henderson, and many others participating therein. The meeting was presided over by Major William Huske, for many years cammander of the company. The vote on Capt. J. B. Broadfoot's resolutions resulted in their adoption by a large majority, which vote, on motion, was made unanimous.

While we consider it unfortunate from one standpoint that the Independent Company should have been confronted by the necessity of taking this decisive step, the misfortune is originally chargeable to the gratuitous and ill-advised action on the part of the State in replacing the gray with the blue uniform, and we have only to reiterate our endorsement of the action of the company on Monday night.

If we have accurately gauged the tone and temper of the officers and members of the corps, they are wholly free of a spirit of disobedience or contumacious opposition to constituted authority. They sever their relations with their comrades of the State Guard with deep regret—but they believe that the time has come in which they are to show that they are worthy of the honor which their fathers won for them: the position of an independent military organization, with the sanction of legislative enactment.

ARMORY F. I. L. I. COMPANY,
Fayetteville, N. C., March 29, '90.

Col W C Jones, Commanding 2nd Reg't N C S G.

DEAR SIR:—At a meeting of the F I L I Company on the 24th inst, a general order was read prescribing a regulation uniform for all the Companies of the State Guard, and as this uniform is not in accord with the wishes of this Company, but is exceedingly repugnant to its tastes and feelings, the undersigned were appointed a committee to look into the matter, and ascertain if this order applied to this Company. Now, while it is not the intention of this Company to disobey any order issued by the Adjutant General or other military authority, yet this committee takes the ground that the uniform order does not apply to this organization, and that it has a right to wear whatever uniform it may see fit to adopt, under the following act or resolution of the Legislature, viz: "That the Governor be and he is hereby authorized and empowered to commission the officers of the Independent Company of Fayetteville, with the following ranks, viz: The Captain with the rank of Major, and the Lieutenants and Ensign with the rank of Captain, so long as the corps shall continue to hold itself armed and equipped agreeable to the tenor of its rules and regulations." See House Journal, page 72; Senate Journal, page 89, session of 1819. You will see that according to the act or resolution of the General Assembly, this Company is granted certain rights and privileges, so long as it holds itself armed and equpped agreeable to the tenor of its rules and regulations. Who makes these rules and regulations? Why, certainly the Company itself, and one of these rules is that it shall wear a gray uniform. Now, we most respectfully submit that the Governor and all other military authorities of the State recognize this act or resolution of the Legislature by issuing commissions to a Major and four Captains of this Company, and we hold that the latter clause of the resolution is as binding and as operative as the former, and that until this act or resolution is amended or repealed, or until this Company changes its rules and regulations, no order can compel it to wear a uniform different from the one it may see fit to adopt.

Another reason why we ask that this Company may be excused from complying with the uniform order is that the order says, "Only the cloth and trimmings will be issued to the companies, and the expense for making up these uniforms must be paid out of the company's fund." What fund? The private fund or the appropriation from the State? If the latter, then we beg to suggest that this Company pays for the rent of its armory just twice as much money as the appropriation from the State amounts to, and that the appropriation for 1889 has long since been paid out for armory rent, and as the uniforms of this company are comparatively new and in good condition this committee thinks that it would be an unreasonable hardship to require the individual members of this Company to pay for the making up the State regulation uniform.

This committee respectfully requests that you put such endorsement on this communication as in your judgment is correct, and that you will forward the same through the regular channel to the Adjutant General without delay.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN A. MCLAUCHLIN.
W. F. CAMPBELL.
E. L. PEMBERTON.

Respectfully forwarded to Gen. Glenn, with regrets that Company A have taken the stand they have regarding the uniforms. Yours very truly,
W. C. JONES, Col. 2nd Reg't.
Wilmington, N. C., April 4, 1890.

Respectfully forwarded to the Commander-in-Chief with the recommendation that each company be required to wear the State Regulation Uniform as prescribed in General Orders No. 2, Series 1890, at the Annual Inspections, Annual Encampment and whenever ordered into service by the Commander-in-Chief, but that at other parades they be allowed to wear a company uniform of such cut or color as they may desire.
JAS. D. GLENN, Adj't Gen'l.

NORTH CAROLINA, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
Greensboro, N. C., April 8, 1890.

His Excellency Daniel G. Fowle, Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

DEAR SIR.—I forwarded you a communication sent me by Col. Jones. I am very sorry this company has seen proper to take this stand. If they are to be a part of the State Guard they should obey all orders as any other company. They quote the Laws of 1819. I take it that all laws not brought forward in the Code are repealed. Section ——, of the Code says: The Governor shall prescribe the uniform. If they are not subject to the Code they should be declared an Independent Company, and not a part of the State Guard.

Your ob't servant,
JAS. D. GLENN, Adj't Gen'l.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Raleigh, April 10, 1890

GENERAL:—I think I can sympathize with the feelings of the Fayetteville Company in being called upon to give up that which has designated it as an independent military organization, but I do not see how it can remain in the State Guard, and yet refuse to submit to the rules and regulations prescribed for its government.

On the other hand, if the Company entered the State Guard under a misapprehension, it would not be just to enforce obedience, without giving the Company an opportunity of resuming its former "status."

The Fayetteville Company will, therefore, be allowed the choice of continuing its organization as an Independent Company under the Act of 1819, by an honorable voluntary withdrawal from the State Guard, if it should so desire.

It is ordered to report to the Adjutant General on or before the 30th of April its action in the premises.
DAN'L G. FOWLE,
Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

To Brig Gen Jas D Glenn, Adj't Gen.

The following are the resolutions submitted by Capt. Jno. B. Broadfoot:

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry Company having called together its old members within easy reach, and having taken counsel with them, and after calm consideration of the matter in all its bearings do resolve that the compulsory change from the gray uniform of our fathers, elder brothers and ourselves, to that of the regulation color of our country is so distasteful to us that we accept with reluctance the alternative given us by His Excellency, our Governor and Commander-in-Chief, of "voluntary withdrawal from the State Guard and resuming our former status." The memories of our hallowed dead with Jackson, Lee and Davis at their head—and never in recorded time has any nation given to immortality three such names within the short space of the life of the Confederacy—are too green for us seemingly ever to forget them. Out of unbounded love for them, with admiration which we cannot express, claiming a share in their well-earned glory, and moved with the same spirit which moved the hearts and upheld the hands of those who wore the gray, we deliberately, politely, but positively refuse to lay aside their color. We part with regret from our comrades in the State Guard, and hereby tender them our hearty thanks for courtesies received and our best wishes for their good fortune and prosperity.

The officers of this meeting are directed to make known through the proper channel this our action to His Excellency, and to remind him that our Company has twice, in actual warefare, borne arms in defence of our State, and to assure him and his successors that should our services again be needed, we shall respond with alacrity, regardless of the color or cut of uniforms or anything else.

Seventy-Fourth Anniversary.

On Monday last, 74 years ago, the corner-stone for the Fayetteville Presbyterian Church was laid with appropriate ceremonies, although the church was organized as far back as 1800. In our next issue we expect to give a brief history of the church.

The 20th, Not the 10th.

The "intelligent compositor" last week made us say (when we had no idea of saying) that the Independent Company had invited the Wilmington Light Infantry here on the 10th of May—it should have read the 20th.

Improvement.

The interior of Mr. H. R. Horne's drug store has been overhauled, repainted and otherwise beautified, which adds very much to its attractiveness and general appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dixon and daughter, of Cohoes, N. Y., are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. C. Thomson, on Haymount. We are glad to know that Mr. Thomson has recovered from his recent severe attack of illness.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxtive and most gentle diuretic known.

DIED.

HOUSTON—On the 14th of March, little ANNIE LAURIE, only daughter of H. V. and Winnie F. Houston, withdrew from the battle of this life, and entered into the service of our Lord.

She was a bright, beautiful, intelligent little girl, loved by all who knew her, the joy and pride of a doting father and mother, and the sunshine of their household. She sang many sweet sacred songs, and spoke often of "going to meet her grandma," who died some years ago. Only seven years old. How very young to die! But we bow in humble submission to our Father's will, knowing that:

The darling we loved so dearly,
Has passed from earth away.
To us the world is dreary—
She lives in perfect day.

'Tis love, and not in anger,
The Father takes her now;
That on her warm and loving heart
And on her snowy brow,

He suffers Death the Reaper
To place his scythe so bright,
And from her sick and wasted frame
To take a soul of light.

But in our deepest sorrow,
His words make glad our heart.
That, if we trust His promise
We'll meet her, ne'er to part. C. E. H.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Again the dread destroyer has entered our mystic circle, and removed from our Lodge a faithful and efficient Brother. Again has Cross Creek Lodge been called upon to mourn the decease of a member who was true to her interest and devoted to her cause.

Our beloved Brother, P. G. H. C. FISHER, is no more. Called away from us in the prime of a vigorous manhood, when life's pleasure and honor were just beginning to be fully realized, we can but be reminded that life's battle is soon ended and its triumphs soon fade—that in life we are in the midst of death.

Resolved, That in this sad bereavement the order at large has sustained the loss of one of its brightest ornaments, and our Lodge mourns for the zealous and efficient officer who so lately took part in its deliberations.

Resolved, That we revere and cherish his memory as an able public officer, a faithful citizen and an earnest Odd Fellow, who in all his relations of life had become endeared to his associates by his activity, his courtesy and his practical benevolence.

Resolved, That we tender our cordial sympathy to his family and friends in their sore affliction, pointing them to the widow's friend and the children's God, and asking the Divine blessing on each and every one of them.

Resolved, That the Secretary be requested to record these resolutions on a page of his proceedings properly draped, and that he send a copy to the family of the deceased.

W. D. GASTER,
B. C. GORHAM,
Committee.

Is Money Scarce?

We are led to doubt the oft-repeated assertion that "money is scarce in this section," when we remember our experience in past spring seasons and realize that we are doing a fine business this spring. Trade is really good with us, and we wish our friends to continue to help us "keep the ball in motion." Our stock was never so attractive before, nor were prices as low on

Edinburgh and Castle.

Jno C. Young in Detroit Free Press.]

Edinburgh, the capital of Scotland, occupies a picturesque situation on a cluster of eminences, at a distance of about a mile and a half from the Firth of Forth. From this position, as well as from its literary fame, it takes the title, "Modern Athens."

The Castle, which crowns the highest point in the city, was undoubtedly built first, a town gradually forming on the top and sides of the ridge, which slopes downward to the east. The view from the summit of the Castle (built on rocks which are 437 feet above sea level), is almost "beyond compare."

In front of it is the esplanade (a clear space between Castle Hill and the town), which was once a place for public executions, and took its present shape in 1753. On one side of it stands a monumental cross in memory of some of the Highlanders who fought for their country during the Indian mutiny. Near the Castle is a vaulted archway, showing traces, within the grooves, of ancient portcullises and massive gates. At a higher summit are situated the commanding officer's quarters.

On the ground floor, at the south-east corner, is Queen Mary's Room, in which James VI. was born in 1566, and from the window of which he was let down in a basket when he was about a week old, this being done for fear the enemies of his family might seek him out and murder him. The baby king was gotten safely down to the street below, and was taken to Stirling Castle, where he could be guarded much better.

On the east side of the palace-yard is the Crown Room, where the most precious of the ancient jewels—the regalia—are kept, together with the crown, sceptre, sword of state and Lord Treasurer's silver rod of office.

On one side of the citadel is Half Moon Battery, connected with Calton Hill, a lofty eminence surmounted by Lord Nelson's monument, by electric apparatus, which every day, when the clock strikes 1 on Calton Hill, discharges a gun at the Castle, which is called the 1 o'clock time gun. Two other points of interest about the Castle are St. Margaret's Chapel and, upon the highest rock, the King's Bastion—where still stands the frightful-looking Mons Meg Cannon, into which a man can crawl and lie down. This immense gun burst in 1682, whilst a salute was being fired in honor of the Duke of York. Some of the large cannon balls still remain beside it.

Imagine the magnificent view from the highest part of the Castle! On one side is the Firth of Forth, with ships riding upon it, all sails set for the open sea, and which, distant twenty miles or more, look like little ducks swimming to and fro—and on the other side Old and New Edinburgh.

Start Right with the Poultry and Keep Right.

Now is the time of year when a thorough overhauling and cleaning out of the houses and yards are absolutely necessary not only to insure the healthfulness of your flock but to insure profit. During the preceding season filth and vermin have accumulated in large quantities; and, if allowed to remain until warm weather, will have gained such a foothold as will render them hard to destroy. You should go to work and clean out your coops and houses, whitewashing nicely, and using in the wash carbolic acid to act as a disinfectant as well as to destroy all insects. After cleaning out and whitewashing your houses you should put in two or three inches of fresh earth as dry as you can get it; also put in some sharp sand and gravel and a dust-box. Cleanliness is the key-note to successful poultry-raising.

If your hens are not laying it is likely that they need green food—vegetables, etc. Almost all kinds of vegetables are good—such as potatoes, turnips and cabbages—either cooked or raw. We cook our potatoes and turnips, and stir in with them a good portion of meal and bran; this makes an excellent morning feed, seasoned with a little salt and pepper, but not too much, as an excess fed to fowls in cold weather makes them liable to take cold, and cold is liable to run into roup. Ground oyster-shells and bone kept before the birds at all times will greatly increase the egg supply. Do not keep very old hens, but sell or kill the old hens, replacing them with fine, early pullets; hens are generally not profitable after three years. Cold rains are very injurious to fowls, a few hours of exposure to which will sometimes put them back for days and even weeks in their laying, besides the attendant danger of roup.

Grape Vines on Heavy Soils.

American Cultivator.]

The old idea that grapes thrive best on light land is mainly due to the fact that such soils are naturally dry. While a heavy clay is not best for the grape, it is no insuperable obstacle to success in vineyarding, providing it is thoroughly underdrained. In fact, grape-growing is possible under a wider range of conditions and soil than is the case with any other crop. The one thing that grape roots cannot abide is stagnant water. No matter if this dries out in midsummer, it is then past the power of the vine to regain lost time. Land thoroughly drained to the depth of three feet warms more quickly in spring, and makes a difference in temperature of five to ten degrees or more at the time when the vine most needs warmth.

Economizing Straw for Bedding.

A few years ago farmers in grain-growing localities used straw lavishly for bedding, for making the largest possible manure piles. Now the tendency is to use as little straw for bedding as is consistent with cleanliness. Cut straw mixed with ground grain makes a valuable feed, the straw furnishing carbonaceous matter, and the meal giving the elements that make muscle and growth. If corn-meal is used it should be mixed with ground oats or wheat bran to make a good feeding ration.

No More Needed.

Chicago Tribune.]

"Before we take up the collection this morning," remarked the good pastor, as he looked mildly over the congregation, "I wish to say that we have in the church treasury already two quarts of nickels that appear to have been punched through and afterwards plugged with lead. The coins, I am informed, will not buy stamps, groceries or fuel, and conductors on street-cars refuse to take them. The choir will please sing 'Oh, land of rest, for thee I sigh.'"

A Deceptive Thought.

Epoch.]

Dr. Primrose—When you were stealing the cake, my young friend, what thought did you have?

Little Johnnie—I thought nobody was looking.

Or a Dialogue.

Puck.]

"Do you read minds just as you would a book?" asked Howell Gibbon.

"Sometimes," returned the mind reader; "in your cases I'd read it just as I would a paragraph."

REV. J. B. HAWTHORNE
WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT
DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER

The following is an extract from a letter written by the World Renowned Evangelist:

"I returned from Tyler, Texas, on the 12th inst. I find my wife has been taking Royal Germetuer to the GREAT UPBUILDING of her physical system. She is now almost free from the distressing headaches with which she has been a MARTYR for twenty years. Surely it has done wonder for her! I WISH EVERY POOR SUFFERING WIFE HAD ACCESS TO THAT MEDICINE.

Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, Pastor First Baptist church, Atlanta, Ga., was cured of a long standing case of Catarrh. His wife had been an invalid from nervous headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism FOR THIRTY YEARS, scarcely having a day's exemption from pain. After taking Royal Germetuer two months, he writes:

"A more complete transformation I have never witnessed. EVERY SYMPTON OF DISEASE HAS DISAPPEARED. She appears to be twenty years younger, and is as happy and playful as a healthy child. We have persuaded many of our friends to take the medicine, and the testimony of all of them is that it is a great remedy."

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is a boon to women. It builds up the strength, increases the appetite, aids digestion, relieves them of the cause of disease, and insures health.

It is an infallible cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Insomnia, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Palpitation, Liver, Bladder and Kidney Diseases, Chills and Fevers, Catarrh, all Blood and Skin Diseases, Female Troubles, etc.

Prompted by a desire to reach more suffering people, the price has been reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. For sale by the

and by Druggists. If your Druggist can not supply you, it can be sent by express.

The World Moves!
Get Up and Ride!!

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay for their supplies before they can get them, however much such dealers may be worth, or however they may be.

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.

Edinburgh and Castle.

Jno C. Young in Detroit Free Press.]

Edinburgh, the capital of Scotland, occupies a picturesque situation on a cluster of eminences, at a distance of about a mile and a half from the Firth of Forth. From this position, as well as from its literary fame, it takes the title, "Modern Athens."

The Castle, which crowns the highest point in the city, was undoubtedly built first, a town gradually forming on the top and sides of the ridge, which slopes downward to the east. The view from the summit of the Castle (built on rocks which are 437 feet above sea level), is almost "beyond compare."

In front of it is the esplanade (a clear space between Castle Hill and the town), which was once a place for public executions, and took its present shape in 1753. On one side of it stands a monumental cross in memory of some of the Highlanders who fought for their country during the Indian mutiny. Near the Castle is a vaulted archway, showing traces, within the grooves, of ancient portcullises and massive gates. At a higher summit are situated the commanding officer's quarters.

On the ground floor, at the south-east corner, is Queen Mary's Room, in which James VI. was born in 1566, and from the window of which he was let down in a basket when he was about a week old, this being done for fear the enemies of his family might seek him out and murder him. The baby king was gotten safely down to the street below, and was taken to Stirling Castle, where he could be guarded much better.

On the east side of the palace-yard is the Crown Room, where the most precious of the ancient jewels—the regalia—are kept, together with the crown, sceptre, sword of state and Lord Treasurer's silver rod of office.

On one side of the citadel is Half Moon Battery, connected with Calton Hill, a lofty eminence surmounted by Lord Nelson's monument, by electric apparatus, which every day, when the clock strikes 1 on Calton Hill, discharges a gun at the Castle, which is called the 1 o'clock time gun. Two other points of interest about the Castle are St. Margaret's Chapel and, upon the highest rock, the King's Bastion —where still stands the frightful-looking Mons Meg Cannon, into which a man can crawl and lie down. This immense gun burst in 1682, whilst a salute was being fired in honor of the Duke of York. Some of the large cannon balls still remain beside it.

Imagine the magnificent view from the highest part of the Castle! On one side is the Firth of Forth, with ships riding upon it, all sails set for the open sea, and which, distant twenty miles or more, look like little ducks swimming to and fro—and on the other side Old and New Edinburgh.

Start Right with the Poultry and Keep Right.

Now is the time of year when a thorough overhauling and cleaning out of the houses and yards are absolutely necessary not only to insure the healthfulness of your flock but to insure profit. During the preceding season filth and vermin have accumulated in large quantities; and, if allowed to remain until warm weather, will have gained such a foothold as will render them hard to destroy. You should go to work and clean out your coops and houses, whitewashing nicely, and using in the wash carbolic acid to act as a disinfectant as well as to destroy all insects. After cleaning out and whitewashing your houses you should put in two or three inches of fresh earth as dry as you can get it; also put in some sharp sand and gravel and a dust-box. Cleanliness is the key-note to successful poultry-raising.

If your hens are not laying it is likely that they need green food—vegetables, etc. Almost all kinds of vegetables are good—such as potatoes, turnips and cabbages—either cooked or raw. We cook our potatoes and turnips, and stir in with them a good portion of meal and bran; this makes an excellent morning feed, seasoned with a little salt and pepper, but not too much, as an excess fed to fowls in cold weather makes them liable to take cold, and cold is liable to run into roup. Ground oyster-shells and bone kept before the birds at all times will greatly increase the egg supply. Do not keep very old hens, but sell or kill the old hens, replacing them with fine, early pullets; hens are generally not profitable after three years. Cold rains are very injurious to fowls, a few hours of exposure to which will sometimes put them back for days and even weeks in their laying, besides the attendant danger of roup.

Grape Vines on Heavy Soils.

American Cultivator.]

The old idea that grapes thrive best on light land is mainly due to the fact that such soils are naturally dry. While a heavy clay is not best for the grape, it is no insuperable obstacle to success in vineyarding, providing it is thoroughly underdrained. In fact, grape-growing is possible under a wider range of conditions and soil than is the case with any other crop. The one thing that grape roots cannot abide is stagnant water. No matter if this dries out in midsummer, it is then past the power of the vine to regain lost time. Land thoroughly drained to the depth of three feet warms more quickly in spring, and makes a difference in temperature of five to ten degrees or more at the time when the vine most needs warmth.

Economizing Straw for Bedding.

A few years ago farmers in grain-growing localities used straw lavishly for bedding, for making the largest possible manure piles. Now the tendency is to use as little straw for bedding as is consistent with cleanliness. Cut straw mixed with ground grain makes a valuable feed, the straw furnishing carbonaceous matter, and the meal giving the elements that make muscle and growth. If corn-meal is used it should be mixed with ground oats or wheat bran to make a good feeding ration.

No More Needed.

Chicago Tribune.]

"Before we take up the collection this morning," remarked the good pastor, as he looked mildly over the congregation, "I wish to say that we have in the church treasury already two quarts of nickels that appear to have been punched through and afterwards plugged with lead. The coins, I am informed, will not buy stamps, groceries or fuel, and conductors on street-cars refuse to take them. The choir will please sing 'Oh, land of rest, for thee I sigh.'"

A Deceptive Thought.

Epoch.]

Dr. Primrose—When you were stealing the cake, my young friend, what thought did you have?

Little Johnnie—I thought nobody was looking.

Or a Dialogue.

Puck.]

"Do you read minds just as you would a book?" asked Howell Gibbon.

"Sometimes," returned the mind reader: "in your cases I'd read it just as I would a paragraph."

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT

DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER

The following is an extract from a letter written by the World Renowned Evangelist:

"I returned from Tyler, Texas, on the 12th inst. I find my wife has been taking Royal Germetuer to the GREAT UPBUILDING of her physical system. She is now almost free from the distressing headaches with which she has been a MARTYR for twenty years. Surely it has done wonders for her! I WISH EVERY POOR SUFFERING WIFE HAD ACCESS TO THAT MEDICINE."

Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, Pastor First Baptist church, Atlanta, Ga., was cured of a long standing case of Catarrh. His wife had been an invalid from nervous headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism FOR THIRTY YEARS, scarcely having a day's exemption from pain. After taking Royal Germetuer two months, he writes:

"A more complete transformation I have never witnessed. EVERY SYMPTON OF DISEASE HAS DISAPPEARED. She appears to be twenty years younger, and is as happy and playful as a healthy child. We have persuaded many of our friends to take the medicine, and the testimony of all of them is that it is a great remedy."

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is a boon to women. It builds up the strength, increases the appetite, aids digestion, relieves them of the cause of disease, and insures health.

It is an infallible cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Insomnia, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Palpitation, Liver, Bladder and Kidney Diseases, Chills and Fevers, Catarrh, all Blood and Skin Diseases, Female Troubles, etc.

Prompted by a desire to reach more suffering people, the price has been reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. For sale by the

and by Druggists. If your Druggist can not supply you, it can be sent by express.

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.
